

25. What is WHO's role in this event?

Since the emergence of this virus, WHO has been working under the International Health Regulations to provide information to Member States. WHO is also working with international partners to coordinate the global health response, including risk assessment, the provision of updated information on the situation, guidance to health authorities and technical health agencies on interim surveillance recommendations, laboratory testing of cases, infection control, and clinical management.

WHO will continue to work with Member States and international health partners and share updated information as it becomes available.

As of May 2, 2013
Philippines is still free from
A(H7N9)

