Maximum Retail Price (MRP) for Medicines

Frequently Asked Questions

Can I still avail of Senior Citizen (SC) and Persons with Disability (PWD) Discounts?

Senior Citizen and Persons-With-Disability discounts for senior citizens and PWDs shall continue to be given for drugs subject to the MRP.

When will the MRP be effective?

Price caps for drugs listed under EO 104 has been in effect since 02 June 2020. For the new round of pricing regulation thru EO 155, the new price caps shall take effect on 23 March 2022.

What should I do in case of violations against the MRP?

Violations may be reported to the Regional Drug Price Monitoring Officers (RDPMO) of your respective region. The directory of RDPMOs and complaints form are available at <https://pharma.doh.gov.ph/maximum-drug-retail-price/>.

How will MRP violations be dealt with?

Violations of EO 104 and 155 are punishable under the law as stipulated in the Cheaper Medicines Act (Republic Act 9502). Administrative fines not less than Fifty thousand pesos (Php 50,000.00) and not more than Five million pesos (Php 5,000,000.00) shall be given for proven violations of the Executive Orders 104 and 155.

Is the Executive Order 821, s. 2009 still effective?

No, EO 821 s. 2009 which prescribed MRP on five (5) molecules: amlodipine, atorvastatin, azithromycin, cytarabine, and doxorubin has been repealed by EO 155 s. 2021. Generic brands are already available which make these medicines affordable to consumers.

What can I do if my medicine is not on the MRP list? How can I access more affordable medicines?

Ask the pharmacist/pharmacy assistant at your local pharmacy to present all available brands for a particular generic drug. It is your right to choose and buy which medicines are affordable to you. Generic medicines are similar to branded ones in terms of safety, efficacy, and quality.
